

How to Hook Your Reader?

Ask a question....

How would like to help out a worthy cause? Well students at P.S. 68 are doing just that!

Use a quote (either from a source or research)...

Ms. Scalfaro, announced to students, "Teachers please remind all students that P.S. 68 is participating in our annual Rachel Cooper Foundation Walkathon,"

According to the Rachel Cooper Foundation, "Is enlisting schools and youth organizations across our country to assist us in the fight against congenital heart defects in children around the world."

Tell a short story...

Rachel Cooper was born on November 18, 1974 as a healthy child. At 2 weeks old, however, she was diagnosed as having a hole in her heart. All the joy parents should have with the birth of a child was saddened by Rachel's health problems and the need for special attention.

Start with a fact or statistic...

There are about 1 million infants, children and young adults living with congenital heart disease in the United States. (Center for Disease Control and Prevention)
